SHORTCUT SCHEDULE AHEAD

Of Contract Time, Report From Knowing Source—Paving to Be Complete One Month Earlier

An Associated Press message, always a dependable and authoritative source, says the short-cut paving stretch from Louisiana to the Mississippi Gulf Coast will be completed a month ahead of schedule. R. P. Nolan of Long Beach, owner of the Union Iron Works of New Orleans, announced Monday at Gulfport. His company has the contract for maintaining machinery of the contracting firm.

Nolan said that a large mass of equipment had been set up at the middle of the proposed road with contractors working in two directions. About a mile and a half of road has been graded on both sides and surfacing is expected to proceed rapidly, he said.

The Echo understands from equally well versed source that the work is not only ahead of schedule time but is progressing rapidly. The usual and incidental hitches and delays that enter into the execution of every big contract are not obstacles to be met with. With grading finished, it was said, work of hard surfacing will be rapid for the kind of topping is of a character that hardens at once and will allow of use without waiting for the long period that generally must elapse between "pouring" setting and ready for use like the instance when concrete or other forms of hard surfacing are used.

This will be good news to the thousands who are waiting the completion and final opening of the Shortcut.

A. S. McQUEEN, CO. SUPT. OF EDUCATION FOR RE-ELECTION

Candidacy Is Formally Announced in County Paper—Gives Interesting Statement of School Work and Finances—Has Made Good

County Superintendent of Education A. S. McQueen, candidate for re-election is announced in this issue of The Echo, placing for consideration his candidacy before the people of Hancock county. Mr. McQueen has administered to the affairs of this all-important office in a manner that would warrant his reelection if we are to seek a continuance of the best interests of the office for all concerned. He is thorough and well equipped for the performance of his duties. He has proven this during his administration and during a period of the most trying time this county has been subjected to during the past four years. Under adverse conditions it has required a man of experience and ability to cope with the situation. This Mr. McQueen has done well. There are no complaints about the schools of Hancock county.

By request, The Echo has procured the following from Supt. McQueen:

"A statement concerning the school finances of the county beginning with the school term of 1930-1931. The total budget for 1930-1931 was $66,428, of this amount $34,984.71 was paid by the State and $31,443.29 by the county. For the term of 1931-1932 the budget was fixed at approximately $64,000. In the early part of 1932 the State Legislature met and cut the Public School Appropriation 40 per cent, this cut in State Appropriation forced the State Department of Education to cut the counties thirty-three and one-third per cent. For the term 1931-32, we received from the State $23,444 instead of $32,000 as we had hoped to get and probably would have gotten had the Legislature not cut the appropriation, and the collections in the county dropped to $20,000.

"I took the oath of office as County Superintendent on the 4th day of January, 1932. The day that I entered the office there was a balance of $110.62 in the Common School Funds, that day the out-going Superintendent drew his salary of $133.35, which left an overdraft of $22.73, however, we held a State Warrant for about $1700, but could not get cash until the following October, and practically all the Special District Funds were over-drawn. The county owed approximately $9,800 to teachers, drivers and for tuition and $8,000 to the bank that had been borrowed in December 1930 plus $520 interest or a total of $18,320. The first of January 1932, we had in a loan warrant fund about $3,500. This subtracted from what we owed leaves a deficit of $14,820 which had to be paid out of funds for that year which had been reduced about $20,000.

"For the school term of 1932-33, the budget was fixed at $43,600, of this amount the State paid $23,600 and we estimated that we would collect $20,000 in the county, but instead of collecting $20,000, we collected $12,000, $8,000 less than we estimated.

"For the term of 1933-34, revenues for schools were reduced to such an extent that we would have been forced to close our schools at the end of four or five months but the United States Government saw the depressed condition of our schools and gave us money with which to pay our teachers for a normal term. This condition was not only in Hancock county but the entire State of Mississippi and every southern state in the Union.

"Even though school finances have been reduced almost half, that means much to the boys and girls of our schools. For the school term of 1931-1932, we had two class "B" schools. To raise the rating of the schools we were forced to spend, out of our reduced revenues, money for extra equipment and repairs to buildings. The standard of teachers has also been raised. For the term 1931-32, we had 17 teachers with less than one year college work, many of them had not graduated from High School. For the term 1934-35, we had three teachers with less than one year college work. All the others had two years or more. This means that the children of Hancock county are being taught by better prepared teachers and in better schools than ever before.

"Hancock county is now a part of Pearl River Junior College where numbers of our young men and women are receiving two years college work at less cost than they could get the training any place else.

"I feel that I have served the people of Hancock county well. I believe that I have done as well as any man could have done under the conditions. I do not feel that the people of the county should hold me responsible for a condition over which I have no control. If I have served well during these years of depression, I am asking you to give me chance to serve you under what appears to be more favorable conditions.

"I take this method of placing before you my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Supt. of Education and will appreciate your vote and influence."

GROUP TO PRESENT NOVELTY

This Friday Evening—Tom Thumb Wedding at Bay High For Missionary Society

A group of ladies, representing the First Methodist Church Missionary Society, headed by Mrs. A. S. McQueen, will present at Bay High School Auditorium this Friday evening 8 o'clock, a novelty in the form of a Tom-Thumb wedding.

This form of entertainment is one of the best known and popular and proves of absorbing interest and entertainment whenever presented. It will be represented by purely local talent, many children taking part. It is not remembered if a Tom-Thumb wedding has been held in the city, but it is positive nothing of the kind has been presented in recent years, hence it would prove a novelty, something new and different from the regular run of entertainment.

Talented young Miss Melanie De Ben will sing for the occasion.

An admission of only twenty-cents will be charged, 15 cents for children. Proceeds will be appropriated to the debt fund of the new Sunday School building.

ROTARY CLUBS TO ASSEMBLE

In Inter-City Meeting, Night Of July 2 at Bradley's—Joint Installation—Program

The program includes a speaker from the Pass Christian club, his subject, "Pass Christian," and a speaker from the Bay St. Louis club, his subject "Bay St. Louis." These addresses will not be so much of an historical nature as they will be of the immediate past—accomplishment and endeavor for the future.

Other program features will be presented by the clubs. The banquet hour will be early, served at Bradley's, and after the program will be presented then the guests will remain for the Bradley dance and floor show.

The Pass Christian entertainment committee is composed of A. E. Lang, chairman; Walter Reed and Bernard Knost. Wm. V. Robinson, ex-officio member.

BOOK OF THE HOUR CLUB HOLDS MEETING AT LOCAL LIBRARY

Mrs. Roland Weston and Mrs. E. M. Heath Present Program Numbers—The Latter to Be Repeated

An exceptionally beautiful early summer season contributed its share of liveliness and interest to the first June meeting of the Book Of The Hour Club, the board of managers of the Bay St. Louis Federal Public Library. Mrs. Carl Marshall, president of the board, presided. The attendance at the meeting, including club members, totaled twenty-seven citizens and guests of Bay St. Louis.

Following the usual business check-up and discussion of affairs concerned with the administration of federal libraries throughout the State, Mrs. Roland Weston gave an extraordinary able and graphic outline to the trend of current events.

This assignment will be filled at the next meeting of the club by Mrs. Kenneth Pepperdene.

In the absence of Mrs. Sam George, a loss which the community is likely to feel with increasing keenness as time goes on, the post of secretary of the board has been left vacant until the next meeting where administration will be discussed.

Mrs. Kenneth Chafee McIntosh (nee Lea) of Pass Christian and New Orleans, was appointed, press reporter to the board.

Among books suggested for immediate addition to library were: The Angel Who Couldn't Sing, by Sophia Cleugh; Testament Of Youth, by Vera Dutton; The Angel of the Rising Sun, by Erskine Caldwell; The Pageant of Cuba, by Hudson Strode; Freeman's Roar E. Lee, and Late Climbs The Sun, author's name omitted.

The book review delivered at the meeting was a compelling and brilliantly outlined interpretation of Zoe Akins' Pulitzer Prize Play, The Old Maid (adapted from Edith Wharton's novel of that name) delivered to the eagerly attentive audience by Mrs. E. M. Heath of New Orleans. Mrs. Heath's long training at the New Orleans School of Oratory and Dramatic Art made her presentation of an already scintillating and delicately offered piece of dramatic writing an occasion to be remembered with genuine delight by her audience. The fine, almost invisible thread of psychic implication, weaving like a shuttle among the characters of Mrs. Wharton's book, might have been borrowed, for use in another setting, from Goethe's Elective Affinities. But Mrs. Heath followed the more factual and human significance of the theme, and confined her review to a natural understanding of people and the happenings which shape their everyday living in a way which produced a result so absolute in its appeal that by popular request, the review will be given again on the morning of Tuesday, June the eighteenth, at ten-thirty, a. m., under the auspices of the Library.

An interesting deviation from the purely business and literary topics discussed during the morning, was the suggestion made by Mrs. Marie Odom that a class in the study of parliamentary law be introduced later in the year as a feature of club meetings. Mrs. Odom believes that in time this will give the members a wider understanding of political problems both in the county and throughout the state. In such troubled and unhalloved times as these, the suggestion may provide solace and conjecture for thoughtful men with a flair for the prophecies of Ibsen.

Two young ladies from this section have gone to New Orleans where they will begin their novitiate for the sisterhood of the order of St. Joseph, both entering St. Joseph Convent, Ursuline avenue, at New Orleans, leaving here last Sunday morning.

They are Miss Kathleen Lenore Gordon, of Bay St. Louis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gordon, residing in Union street, and Miss Rita Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Moran, residing at Kiln.

Both are quite young, attending school at St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis. Both come from large families.

Miss Moran has four brothers and two sisters. She will be 18 years old on August 10, 1935. Miss Gordon has four brothers and three sisters. She will be 18 years old February 8, 1936.

Both are members of representative families, well known and have a wide circle of acquaintances in two States to wish them success in the pursuit of their life's vocation.

HANCOCK COUNTY LOSES SHARE OF GASOLINE TAX COLLECTED AT GULFPORT

As Base of Sales Made For Coast Counties—However, Supreme Court Affirms Judgment Giving Hancock $2,484 In Special Seawall Taxes 1928-30

HUGH WHITE TONIGHT

Will Speak at Hancock County Courthouse This Evening In Interest Candidacy

Hugh White, candidate for the governorship of Mississippi, and who was in the second primary with Gov. Conner in the last primary, will address the voters of this section of Hancock county at the courthouse, Bay St. Louis, this Friday evening, June 14, at 8 o'clock P. M.

Mr. White will discuss the issues of the day as they affect Mississippi and will dwell on his platform, telling the public what he thinks best for Mississippi and its people, how these things may be best accomplished. He favors many things for the masses, but not at the expense of the masses who, after all, pay the bulk of the taxes. Mr. White is far from visionary. He is sound, an experienced business man, one who has been generous to labor, believing that in the prosperity of the farmers and other working people depends the success of both State and county.

Sheriff T. Ed. Kollar, sheriff Hancock county, who introduced another candidate for governor at Kiln recently, will have the honor of introducing Mr. White to night—it being befitting that a county officer should serve as master of ceremonies.

The public is cordially invited and respectfully urged to come out and hear Mr. White. The ladies in particular are invited. Plenty of room, ample seating capacity and the second floor of the court building is always cool and comfortable.

Mr. White will be pleased to meet personally as many as possible of ladies and gentlemen who may wish to see him either before or after the speaking.

"J. Y." VAN WHITFIELD AGED 27 YEARS PASSES ON TO OGREAT BEYOND

Died at New Orleans Tuesday—Buried at Fenton—Victim of Pneumonia

Mr. E. Van Whitfield and family have the sympathy of the community in the visitation of sorrow that has again come to his home.

His youngest son, John ("J. Y.") Whitfield, native of Bay St. Louis, aged 27 years, died at New Orleans Tuesday, June 11, a victim of pneumonia.

The remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis and funeral took place from his father's residence, out Main street (Blue Meadow Road) Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Father Patrick Moran, church Our Lady of the Gulf, officiating.

From here the funeral continued to Fenton where the remains were buried in the family plot near Fenton, Rev. Father Denis, of the Catholic church at Kiln, conducting the final rites of the church. The funeral was largely attended by friends both from this immediate section and the Kiln-Fenton sector where the family are equally as well known.

The deceased is survived by his father, one brother, Rufus Whitfield, of Kreole, Miss., and one sister, Mrs. M. J. Dodd, resident of Jackson, Miss. His mother, Mrs. Angelina Moran Whitfield, of Kiln, passed away years ago.

Untimely death of this splendid young man is deeply deplored. Member of one of the oldest and best families of Hancock county, he was well and widely known; a splendid young man his passing away in the very flush of youth is all the more deplorable.

Mr. Whitfield and family recently lost his oldest son and a grandson in double tragedy and the shadow that has again cast its gloom across the home is a dark one, indeed. Many flowers that marked the last resting place is an attestation of not only States to wish them success in the pursuit of their life's vocation, but of sympathy as well.

For some reason beyond the comprehension of the supreme court, the legislature omitted a few words from the act of 1930 providing for the distribution of special gasoline taxes, to the counties, with the result that Hancock county loses its 3-cent special sea wall levy on gasoline trucked over from Gulfport terminals since 1930.

But the court affirmed a judgment giving Hancock $2,484 in special sea-wall taxes collected on identical shipments between 1928 and 1930.

The case was before the high court in a suit filed early in 1932 by W. J. Miller, former state tax collector, and prosecuted by J. B. Gully, the present collector, since he came into office. The suit was against Harrison county, the tax collector's claim being that Hancock county's share in the taxes collected on gasoline and similar products had been erroneously remitted by the auditor to Harrison county.

It was a suit at law and the circuit court gave the tax collector a judgment for the $2,484 collected prior to November 1, 1930, but declined judgment for a division of taxes collected subsequent to that date. Both sides appealed, Harrison county being dissatisfied with the judgment rendered against it and the state tax collector objecting to the court judgment holding Hancock county was not entitled to a share of the taxes collected subsequent to November 1, 1930.

The supreme court, in an opinion written by Mr. Justice McGowan, affirmed the lower court on both the direct and cross-appeals.

The case turned on Section 6929, Code of 1930, providing for distribution of special gasoline taxes. Harrison county has a special tax of two cents per gallon and Hancock a special levy of three cents for the retirement of bonds and the cost of maintenance of the sea-wall protecting both counties from the tideswaters of the Gulf of Mexico.

However, because of the advantages of Gulfport's shipping facilities and storage terminals, distributors of gasoline used that city as a base of operations for the Coast area and distributed gasoline to its customers in Hancock county, "for sale therein," from the Gulfport terminals.

"The language being plain," wrote Judge McGowan, "there is nothing in the history of the legislation by which we would be warranted to read languages into the statute which it does not contain thereby allowing Hancock county to recover excise taxes levied and collected in Harrison county subsequent to the adoption of Section 6929. We do not know why the legislature omitted these words from the statute, but in view of the fact that they omitted naphtha, alcohol and other like substances from the statute we are not authorized by judicial construction to rewrite it. On examination of the 'dummy code' in connection with this section (6929) we are lead to believe, just or unjust, fair or unfair, that the legislature intended to adopt the statute as it now appears and from thenceforth the county in which the excise-tax was levied and collected should receive the benefit therefrom.

ST. JOSEPH ACADEMY

THE ECHO has had occasion more than once to refer to Bay St. Louis as an educational center and that rightly. The term has not been used simply as an affectation for high-sounding phrase, as a advertisement or simply to employ a term to adorn or to embellish but because we truly boast of our city as a center of schools, of learning and of all the cultural phase and atmosphere the term implies.

Bay St. Louis as an educational center has quite a number of schools high in rating, noted for their organization and thoroughness of work and many boys and girls have been set out into the world originally from the Bay St. Louis schools who have "made good."

Of these none the least is St. Joseph Academy, conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph, a fully accredited high school. Each year a class of seniors receive their diplomas and study successfully to that point that high honors are accorded, and to receive a diploma is an achievement for only upon the worthy are such honors conferred.

This year the class of eleven was typical of classes that have gone before. Saturday evening a large and cultured audience assembled on occasion of the eightieth commencement exercises, to pay tribute and honor to the graduates. It was an interesting occasion.

An education received at St. Joseph's is thorough of life-long value and appreciation; carrying all the essentials that go to make for both moral and academic development. A young lady leaving the academy, carries with her an imperishable armor for life's vicissitudes.

It is then no wonder the academy has had so long and useful career, that it has successfully served generations and will so continue and also as a potential factor to Bay St. Louis as an educational center.

Graduates will find the world a bit harder to capture than scholastic honors but older heads will applaud their efforts.

LESS OPPOSITION

SOMETIME ago the City of New York placed a two per cent sales tax on all retail sales within its territory. It is now estimated that this tax will bring in $45,000,000. At first, there was considerable opposition to the tax but in the recent issue of the New York Times we read the following:

"It has been found, however, that opposition to the tax is rapidly decreasing, on the part both of the public and of store keepers and merchants. The outcry which came from the department stores when the tax was first imposed as largely died down, and they have been most consistent in cooperating. The department stores have also found that the tax has appreciably affected business."

While the sales tax may not be theoretically just in many ways the fact remains that it is the kind of a tax that a large number of taxpayers prefer to other levies. Many states have resorted to it during the emergency of the past few years, including our own Mississippi.

PENSIONS FOR CONFEDERATES

THE suggestion that the Federal government pension the few remaining Confederate veterans is made by no less a person than Alfred E. Stacey, National Commander of the G. A. R. In several recent statements he has suggested that this would be the best way to wipe out the last vestige of enmity because of the war between the States.

This shows how the world moves. Foes that fought against each other, in setting by arms a great issue in this country, seem to have become, in truth, common citizens of a common nation.

The lesson set by the people of the United States in erasing as far as possible the bitterness of a great struggle ought to be copied by some of the nations of Europe, where past hates and bitter wrongs are kept alive to nourish the war spirit. It is not the way to peace and never can be.

REVOLUTIONARY

IN 1492 Christopher Columbus crossed the Atlantic ocean in 69 days and in 1819 the Savannah opened the era of steam by the miraculous passage in 26 days. This month the Normandie, new French liner, established a new record of 4 days, 11 hours and 42 minutes.

Land travel has been speeded up as much. Who can imagine that the United States of today, with airplane trips regularly scheduled from coast to coast overnight and with fast passenger trains making the journey in a few days, would be what it is if we had to rely on the stage coach and the steamer for travelling. The advent of the automobile revolutionized life in this country because it made travel easy and annihilated distance.

Dr. G. F. Carroll, Biloxi physician and surgeon, has been commissioned as surgical specialist at the U. S. veterans' administration facilities, and assigned as chief of surgical service at the veterans hospital, Biloxi. He has been practicing at Biloxi since 1906 and for the past year has been surgical consultant at the veterans' administration facility, Biloxi.

WHY NOT FREE OFFICE HOLDERS?

THE term free has always lured many and it has never been more used, abused and misused than in the present campaign over the State of Mississippi.

Free school books, old age pensions, homestead exemptions are only a few of the threadbare delusions that have been set out as bait by various and sundry candidates.

If we are going to have free school books, pay everybody over 60 years of age $200.00 a month, owners of homes exempt from paying taxes, and so on where in the name of heaven is the money to come from to pay for these "free" things? Where is the cash to come from to pay even salaries for the horde of candidates over the country, if elected, who are running on the platform advocating free this and free that?

We are burdened with taxation today because we have free schools, free homes for the aged, free homes for the blind, free homes for the unfortunate insane, free homes for t. b. patients, free asylum homes for children, free hospitals, free transportation for school children, free bridges, free highways costing millions of dollars and in fact the category of "free" things extends far down the line.

Common reason tells us we must pay. The law of compensation is compelling and exacting. There is nothing free.

If we are going to continue, according to many of the candidates, to entertain this free business where will it all end?

The truth of the matter while we are clamoring for reduction in taxes and saddling the State with so many "free" projects we are in the last analysis boosting our taxes higher than ever. We are cursed with too many free things we may do without or we may be able to pay for. The demagogue is rampant. He is running wild. He has nothing to offer but projects disguised as free but in reality are most expensive and tax-piling.

It might be well for this country to get back to self-respect consciousness. To pay for the things we wish and get. To be decent and self-dependent. We are drifting into a state that is nothing less than demoralizing.

The seashore season is on—health and happiness—and Bay-Waveland, the Gulf Coast, offers unsurpassed advantages to our readers away who are asking, "Where shall we go for the summer?" or "Where spend a vacation?"

A LIQUOR AD

WE wish to call attention to an advertisement by a manufacturer of whiskey. In one of its advertisements Seagram's says: "Drink and driving do not mix." The advertisement proceeds:

"Liquor has no place in the front seat of an automobile. . . . Alcohol and gasoline do not mix. . . . It is very much to our self-interest to see that the privilege of drinking is not abused. . . . Whiskey is a luxury which should be treated as such. It should be taken in moderation—and only in its proper place. . . . Neither whiskey nor any other alcoholic liquor has any place at the wheel of an automobile."

This shows that some of the manufacturers of liquor fully realize the danger of letting an intoxicated man drive a powerful automobile on crowded highways or streets. We hope the law enforcement agencies of Mississippi will have convictions just as decided on this matter. Any one who tries to drive an automobile while under the influence of liquor should be arrested and put in jail because such a person is endangering the lives of other people who have a right to be safe when traveling to and fro.

Law enforcement officers should like-wise be on the alert to prevent liquor-hogs from making the streets and public places objectionable to law-abiding and decent citizens. If the police will promptly arrest and take off the streets or out of circulation the first few people who become objectionably drunk and will do a great deal to prevent the consumption of whiskey becoming a great nuisance to other people.

There are many people who can drink in moderation and whose drinking does very little harm to other people. Those who cannot so control themselves should be made to stay out of public places where their drunkenness will be objectionable and distasteful to others exercising their rightful privilege of walking the streets or circulating in public places.

With the completion of the Shortcut now in sight we are seemingly more impatient than ever. Real estate values in Bay-Waveland are due an early advance.

BUSINESS GAINS

SIGNS over the country generally indicate that business is making substantial gains. In fact, the upward swing has gained sufficient momentum that already some of the far-seeing leaders are discussing measures to prevent prices and speculation getting back to the 1929 level during the coming years.

In Atlanta the Journal points out the increased building permits, "which rose from a value of less than seventy-five thousand dollars in January, 1933, to one hundred and eighty-seven thousand dollars in March, 1935, and to two hundred and fifty-four thousand in April."

Similar reports come from other sections of the country.

IT'S GOOD NEWS ANYWAY

PROF. Irving Fisher, Yale economist and business statistician, has reasons for saying that "the growing conviction the depression is nearing its end is justified" although we do not assert that we understand the brothers' argument.

Nevertheless, it is good news for most of us who have been anxiously looking for the day when the depression can be officially and actually buried. Let us assume, cautiously, that the learned authority knows what he is talking about and make our plans for the brighter days ahead.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

DON'T TEACH SCHOOL

THE woman editor of the Laurel Leader-Call may seem a bit cold-blooded at times, but she always uses common sense when passing out advice to members of her sex. Here's an instance:

There is just one piece of advice we should like to offer to graduates this June—

Don't go into the school teaching business. It is grossly overcrowded and underpaid. There is no future in it for the great average of those who enter it.

When graduates from first rate colleges have to take a salary of forty-five dollars a month, then it is time for them to look elsewhere for a living.

Get a job in the garment factory. Go to Washington, mecca of the jobless of the nation. Join the "back to the farm movement." Do anything that's honest, go anywhere, but don't teach school.

No profession in the nation is more overcrowded than pedagogy.

Here in Mississippi there are more than 6,000 persons holding licenses as school teachers who cannot find schools to teach.

Nevertheless, our normal colleges keep right on turning out new teachers each year.

Loud and plaintive are the complaints you hear about low wages paid to teachers. Perhaps it has occurred to our educational leaders and those who desire to enter the profession that wages are kept low largely because of over-production; that the law of supply and demand governs in this as in all other matters.—Jackson Daily News.

EVERYTHING FREE

HERE'S a typical announcement by a legislative candidate—typical of dozens culled from the weekly press of Mississippi:

I favor homestead exemptions.
I favor free school books.
I believe in free hospitalization.
I favor a lower rate of taxation.
I favor larger appropriations for schools and colleges.
I favor unemployment insurance.
I favor payment of the soldier bonus.
I believe state and county taxes should be reduced 25 per cent.

No doubt he also favors free food, free clothing, free whiskey, free religion—everything free and no cause to worry about who must ultimately pay the bills.

Well, we've had chumps of that sort sent to the legislature before, and doubtless the voters will keep on sending them.—Jackson News.

A PLATFORM THAT WILL APPEAL TO BOTH SIDES

A CANDIDATE for the legislature in one of the lower counties has put it all over the candidates for governor in the way of a platform to run on. Here it is:

"If I am elected to represent the people of this county in the legislature I here and now promise you that I will 'tighten up where things are too loose and loosen up where things are too tight.'"

If any candidate has a better platform than that we will print it free of charge.—Jackson Clarion-Ledger.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

QUITE a bit of interest centers in the announced merger of Twentieth Century with the Fox Corporation. Sidney Fox, president of Fox, will be retained as president of the new organization, with Darryl Zanuck, formerly head of Twentieth Century, as vice-president. The change to the Fox banner will not alter Mr. Zanuck's plans for the coming season, as nine of his contemplated twelve productions are already completed.

Upon completion of "Anna Karenina," Greta Garbo plans to return to Sweden for a vacation. After this, it is rumored she will return to Hollywood and MGM for two more pictures at a reputed salary of $250,000 per film.

Pioneers Pictures, under the direction of Merriam C. Cooper, will make two more films in technicolor for release through RKO Radio. They have not yet been titled. "Becky Sharp," the first full-length feature to be produced in all color, will be released this week.

Following the completion of "Top Hat," in which she is starred with Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers will make "In Person," based on the story by Samuel Hopkins.

Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery have finished their work in "No More Ladies," for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Among the outstanding productions to be released by Gaumont-British Pictures for the 1935-36 season are: "Thirty-Nine Steps," with Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll; "The Clairvoyant," with Claude Rains and Fay Wray; "Morals of Marcus," with Lupe Velez and Ian Hunter; "Alias Bulldog Drummond," with Jack Dugan and Fay Wray; "Born for Glory," yet to be produced.

When Leslie Howard completes his engagement in "The Petrified Forest," on Broadway, he will go to Hollywood to play the lead in "Green Light," based on the Lloyd C. Douglas novel.

"Moscow Nights," based on an unpublished novel by Pierre Benoit, will be the next film to be produced by Alexander Korda for London Films. Harry Baur, will play the leading role.

Jack Buchanan is to have the lead in the screen transcription of Alice Duer Miller's novel, "Come Out of the Pantry," to be released through United Artists.

Title changes have been busy in Hollywood again it seems, having changed "It Happened in Paris," an Olympic Picture Film, to "April in Paris," and "Mad Love," Peter Lorre's first film for Metro, to "The Hands of Arlac."

Madge Evans is enroute to Europe for a vacation, having just completed work in "Calm Yourself," for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Paramount has signed Daniel Haynes, Negro actor who replaced the late Richard Harrison as De Lawd of "The Green Pastures," for a role in "So Red the Rose," in which Pauline Lord and Margaret Sullivan are appearing.

Charles Boyer and his wife, Pat Patterson, have departed for Europe for a vacation. Incidentally, Mr. Boyer will make two French films while abroad.

Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell, who worked together in "We're in the Money," will again be teamed by First National in their production of "Gilt Edged Blondes," a comedy story by Isabel Dawn and Boyce Degaw.

Warner Brothers have signed Warren Hull, radio and musical comedy star, for a role in a forthcoming production.

Cecil B. DeMille's next spectacle for Paramount will be a screen version of the Biblical drama, "Sampson and Delilah."

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

GIRL SCOUT CAMP IN LOGTOWN

Nineteen members of Girl Scout Troop One of Bay St. Louis left Wednesday afternoon for Logtown, where they were to camp for five days in an unoccupied house loaned them by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weston.

Mrs. J. B. Goldman, captain of the troop, was assisted in conducting the camp by Mesdames Nelson, Eugene Davis, Carl Olson, Richard Koch, who worked directly with the campers, and many other women whose interest in Scouting led them to make many contributions to the success of the camp in numerous ways.

Among the activities the campers enjoyed were a candy-pull which they gave for the Logtown Girl Scouts, a picnic to Pearlaring, and a most interesting visit to the home of Mrs. Hancock, who lives in the vicinity of Pearlaring. Mrs. Hancock showed the Scouts an old Indian burial ground and one in which some buttons similar to those found on Confederate uniforms were found. She also showed them many beautiful and picturesque scenes along Pearl river. In addition to this she gave the campers many ideas for the scout-house they intend to build by displaying several log cabins that she and the members of her family had built on their premises.

The Scouts spent many well-filled hours in cooking over an open barbecue pit and performing other camp duties. They found much interest in watching the growth of a family of birds that nested not far from the barbecue pit.

After five happy days the scouts regretfully departed for their homes Monday afternoon. In recognition of the Scout spirit displayed by one group of girls in keeping their room clean and showing good behavior the rest of the Scouts will give them a party soon, Mrs. Goldman announced shortly after the camp closed.

The Girl Scouts wish to offer their sincere thanks to those who promoted the camp movement.

—EDITH JACOBS, Troop Scribe.

Personal and General

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER FOR MISS MARTHA ALLEN GIVEN AT MRS. SPEER'S.

A social event of unusual interest to the Baptists of Bay St. Louis and her other many friends was the pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Martha Allen, Rev. Allen's daughter, Tuesday afternoon, June 4.

The WMU was in charge of the entertainment, held at the home of Mrs. W. S. Speer, WMU president. The house was beautifully decorated, a color scheme of white and yellow being cleverly carried out. A cook book for the bride-elect was made, each guest contributing her favorite recipe. When the book was completed Miss Allen was blind-folded and told to beat up a cake. In a few minutes the blind was removed from her eyes, and lo! there right before her was a huge white wedding cake trimmed in lovely yellow flowers and with a miniature bride and groom standing in the center.

On cutting the cake the bride-to-be found many lovely and useful gifts with good wishes galore.

Later, there was a call to the dining room where delicious punch and white and yellow cakes were served. Also there was home-made fudge that did not go begging. Altogether it was a most enjoyable occasion, and one Miss Allen declares she shall ever gratefully and pleasantly remember.

LORA MAE AIRD SCORES AT ANNUAL FORD FOLLIES PRESENTATION AT N. O.

Tulane Theater, New Orleans, was the scene Friday night of presentation of the annual Ford Follies, by pupils of the Ford Dance Studio, glorifying New Orleans youth.

One of the stars of the program of the evening was Miss Lora Mae Aird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Aird and grand-daughter of Mrs. J. W. Burns, formerly Mrs. G. G. Garbled of Bay St. Louis, wife of the late mayor of this city.

This little lady's performance of acrobatic dancing is outstanding and has attracted national attention and recognition. She bids fair to a bright and successful career as a dancer of marked individuality.

Lora Mae frequently visits Bay St. Louis and is well known locally.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS TO MAKE BAY ST. LOUIS PLACE OF RESIDENCE.

Navy (retired) in August, when they will make their plans for a permanent home in either the Bay or Waveland.

Capt and Mrs. McIntosh expect to devote their time to writing. Their articles and stories have heretofore appeared in "The Atlantic Monthly" and in "Mercury."

Mrs. McIntosh is a sister of Fannie Hearsly Lea, the author. Bay St. Louis certainly welcomes these distinguished visitors.

COACH RESIGNS POST

Forster Commagere, G. C. M. A. Director to Leave Coast—Former St. Stanislaus Coach

Gulfport, Miss., June 4.—A successful and spectacular coaching career on the Mississippi coast for Forster Commagere has apparently reached the end of the trail. He resigned as athletic director at Gulf Coast Military academy and is understood to be considering at least three offers—one which would remove him from this section of the country.

The veteran mentor, who has coached several national outstanding athletes, wouldn't comment on the reported offers, stating only he was undecided as to his future. He said he would probably remain on the Mississippi coast for several weeks.

Commagere has been a prominent figure in athletics in South Mississippi and Louisiana since 1908 when he coached amateurs in New Orleans. In 1912 he made his scholastic coaching debut at St. Paul's college in Covington and remained there until 1915 when he transferred his activity to St. Stanislaus college at Bay St. Louis. He joined Gulf Coast Military academy on March 11, 1929.

While at Stanislaus, Commagere coached several outstanding athletes,

Tyer, voted all-around athlete of the country in 1917, present judge at Hammond, La.; Milton "Tippo" Phillips coach Bay St. Louis High; Eddie Reed, Loyola coach; Ed die Moore, manager of the league-leading Southern Association, Atlanta Crackers; Harry (Wop) Glover, former Tulane gridiron star and present coach at Stanislaus; John Scaife, another ex-Tulane great, now coaching at Kiln Vocational High, and many others.

Glover, Scaife, Bonura and Schwartz played together at Stanislaus in 1925 and were mainstays of one of the greatest football teams turned out at the school.

Among the outstanding athletes developed at Gulf Coast Military academy under Coach Commagere were Milton Offner of New Orleans; Bill Spivey, now at Notre Dame; George Gorman of Birmingham; Tom Borne, John Andrews, Andrew Chiepalich, who gave a good account of himself at the A. A. U. track and field meet at Baton Rouge this spring in his first year out for sprints, and Bob Morris, who Coach Commagere classifies as one of the best high school football centers he ever handled.

Coach Commagere, a graduate of St. Aloysius in New Orleans, directed Stanislaus athletics from 1915 until 1927. He remained inactive from interscholastic work in 1928 and came to G. C. M. A. the next season.

This past year was the first bad campaign on the gridiron from the standpoint of games won and lost he experienced at the military school, practically his entire squad was composed of green material, with only two first-string lettermen in the rank. Two others of the squad received letters as reserves the year previous.
